

People Building Bridges Toward Responsible Forestry.

For nearly a decade, the work of the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) has validated the vision and transformational power of Agenda 21.

Through democratic, open, transparent, multi-stakeholder processes, FSC has helped people build bridges across ideologies, customs and conventions to arrive at forest-management solutions that promote the full range of social, environmental and economic values.

With a reach that now extends across 66 countries on five continents, FSC has helped give access, voice, and vote to stakeholders from every stratum of life – even those historically marginalized in policy making processes.

FSC's success is testament to the power of a simple idea to reform forest practices worldwide.

FSC's legacy is the lasting, beneficial transformation of minds, hearts, and communities in the process.
